

Saville productions

Leo McCrea

Leo McCrea is a Director with 3x BAFTA Nominations & RTS, Broadcast, Bulldog awards. He has worked for the major Networks and high profile advertising clients such as Nescafe, Suzuki, Sony, Kit Kat and Barclays.

Regularly employed to set the style & tone of new series' he directed the first series of Mortimer & Whitehouse Gone Fishing BBC2, the first series two series of Travel Man Ch4 (over 5 series commissioned) and the first series of Three in a Bed (400 plus episodes).

Leo has been trusted to handle top talent such as Richard Ayoade, Romesh Ranganathan, Jonathan Ross, Stephen Merchant, Rob Beckett, Kathy Burke, and Jonny Vegas to name a few.

Over the last 17 years he has the privilege to direct Jack Whitehall Travels with my Father NETFLIX, Big Narsties Big Adventure, Made in Chelsea, Gadget Man, Scrapheap challenge, TOWIE, Shipwrecked in the Cook Islands (Ch4) to name a few.

Leo loves the language of film making; how to choose the right shots to enhance the drama and what the composition says about the story. He is always exploring new ways to approach film making by employing the latest camera technology and rigs. He also has a strong sense of story and is used to leading large teams to deliver high end results.

Leo's Reel

<https://wdrv.it/c2e0e158a>