Tim James Brown

SHOTS have showcased Tim's work twice; The Shark Evolution Top Ten New Directors and The London 'Divine Collection', with 'Sprite Goblin' and 'VW 'Service Plan' making the APA Top 50, and his Royal Mail 'Coffee Cup' TVC winning a Silver Arrow in the 'John Webster' Best Idea In 30 Seconds.

Tim worked on the BBC account for three years, where he wrote over 50 trials - notably launching the iconic FREEVIEW Face-off campaign where Tim employed a plethora of celebrities; Steven Berkoff, John Simpson, Gary Lineker, Alan Hansen, Ricky Tomlinson, Kathy Burke, Phill Jupitus, Jerry Hall, Dot Cotton, and the extremely tricky and temperamental Teletubbies - winning BTAA GOLD and Promax GOLD. And Talking of GOLD medals, he also won The Times Sports Brand of The Year award for the legendary BBC - BRING ON THE SUPERHUMANS.

Tim's style aims to defy genre but always delivers on the vision, pushing each script towards its own iconic voice with his innate knack for casting subtle performances and cinematic comedy have since garnered him awards at D&AD, Cannes, Creative Circle, and The Big Awards, with a GOLD at the British Television Advertising Awards for the Best Use Of Casting. His 'Samsung Monkey' spot has over 6 million hits on YouTube.
